The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Colonel Sam Staine has again become owner of The Dover News. Success to you, Samuel!

Returns show that the Republicans captured a large proportion of the county offices in Kentucky.

Captain D. Watt Shedd is now a grandpa. His daughter, Mrs. Cliff Martin, has a daughter.

Ninety-three Louisville carpenters are suing the United Brotherhood of Carpenters for a strike allowance.

Holder of policy No. 635700 of the Colonial Insurance Company of Scotland will please present same to Messrs. Lloyd & Chamberlain agents for cancellation.

Gilbert Warner, while viewing the sights at Barkley's, permitted a piece of leather to stick to his fingers. Judge Wadsworth fined him $25, but suspended sentence long enough for Gilbert to leave town.

The State Board of Valuation and Assessment, composed of Secretary Headley, Treasurer Hale and Auditor Norman, has reduced the tax on whisky in bond from $11 to $10 per barrel. This action was taken on petition and statement made by all the distillers in the state asking a reduction.

The Scott County Court sold the county's interest in forty shares in the Lexington and Newtown Turnpike to agents of Fayette county at $35 per share. The purchase was made with a view to making the turnpike free. This is what will soon have to be done in Mason county, else there will be a good many business houses for rent in this city.

The Rev. Mr. Tyrell, Pastor of the Owensboro Christian Church, preached a sermon Sunday morning on "Money bordering on the Temporal," and it has been the subject of much comment since. His subject was "Smoothing the King's Highway," and he said there was one big hill in the road that had to be cut down, and that hill was so-called "good society." The alleged good society of Kentucky, he declared, was rotten from circumference to core, contaminating everything in it. He asserted that there was not a home among the people composing this so-called good society the doors of which are not thrown wide open in welcome to notorious sinners and profligates.

We might use the words of Shelley to express the motto of these young ladies: "Though we eat little flesh, we drink no wine, Yet, let's make merry, we have a lot to eat; For supper, and an audience, too, Of syllabub and jellies and mince pies, And other such lady-like luxuries."

In the center of the table of pink paper was a magnificent cluster of chrysanthemums of that shade with trailing smilax.

The emblem of the club was represented in the chintz decoration,—violets. Two of the club's members being away, only five were present. Of course, five cooks are not as good as seven cooks, but the difference was mainly in quality.

We might use the words of Shelley to express the motto of these young ladies: "Though we eat little flesh, we drink no wine, Yet, let's make merry, we have a lot to eat; For supper, and an audience, too, Of syllabub and jellies and mince pies, And other such lady-like luxuries."

The Columbus relics loaned by Spain during the World's Fair have been safely returned to Madrid.

The Pastors of all the Protestant Churches at Covington waited on the City Council and urged it to close the poorhouse.

The Union Thanksgiving this year will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Mr. Holt of the M. E. Church will preach the sermon.

Mr. George H. Brodt of the Maysville Shoe Factory was in Cincinnati yesterday and sold 1,000 pairs of shoes, besides receiving several large orders. The prospects are fine for spring trade.

Oh, what an easy thing it is, Bre'r Marsh, to "classify" Government employees. Each new Department head can do that, and it will last only during his reign. See? It's the law of Congress that they can't change.

B. Thomas is contemplating a visit back to his old home in Kentucky in time for Thanksgiving. —Wilcox Springs (Mo.) Index.

Mr. Thomas formerly resided near Mt. Gilead.

Mephisto in "Faust" is the task that Mr. Griffith undertakes at our playhouse this coming Saturday night. Scholarly actor that he is, his interpretation will be a revelation—a Mephisto far from the traditional portrayal.

Father Donnelly, who has charge of the Brookville and Minerva Churches in Bracken county, was badly injured Tuesday afternoon by his horse taking fright at some object on the roadside near Falmouth. He was on his way to Brookville to officiate at the marriage of a prominent young couple of that community.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS

MCKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in agony in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William L. Wilson was dined and wined in London because he is the author of a Free-trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

WHEN the Democrats followed old George H. Pendleton's lead and voted for the Civil Service Law they hadn't the slightest idea that it was loaded.

THE Bulletin is very much exercised as to who the Republicans will nominate for state offices. Just keep your shirt on, neighbor, and in due time we'll name the fellows who will keep the mosquitoes off you.

DENMARK has followed Germany's example and closed its ports to live cattle and fresh meat from the United States. Thus the Democratic Administration is cutting off "the markets of the world" which the McKinley Law and Reduplicity opened to us.

The Civil Service Commission reports as illegal the appointment of seven watchmen in the Baltimore Postoffice and their subsequent promotion to the places covered in the recent Civil Service extension. Oh, my! How these Democratic roosters do observe the Civil Service Law! If a Republican Postmaster should do what Baltimore's Democratic Postmaster would have a beloved Brother of The Bulletin would have a forty horsepower duck.

Joyous throbbing life

offered to the chronic invalid would be regarded with distrust! Long suffering leaves the patient hopeless—he believes no more in any cure. Would that such hopeless ones could read the testimonials of Brown's Iron Bitters.

They point a way to relief and health, and they are genuine!

SWEET WATER, Tex.—For twelve long years I was a great invalid, and I had given up all hope, and at times was confined to my bed. I tried every remedy recommended by sympathizing friends and physicians without success. Then I learned of the efficacy of Brown's Iron Bitters, and after two bottles I was back again, and have been well and hearty ever since. W. T. Cook.

THE Democratic idea is to pay out American gold for foreign goods—giving up the goods and the foreigner the gold. The Republican plan is to pay out American gold for American goods—giving America both the goods and the gold. Now, honor bright, which do you think is the best?

HENRY county Democrats will contest the election of SHOUSE, Republican, for Sheriff. He claims the election by three votes, but the Democrats hold that when numerous fraudulent votes are thrown out the Democratic candidate, YEAGER, will have a majority. Thought it was Republicans only who entered into contests.

A special from Georgetown, O., says the Circuit Court for this subdivision, now in session here, has granted a continuance in the case of the State of Ohio against Edward H. Jones, now for the fourth time confined in the annex awaiting execution. Jones was to have been hanged on the 21st day of December, but as the Circuit Court does not meet here again until next April, he will be reprieved until that time. The continuance was granted on the ground that the defendant's attorneys had not had sufficient time to examine the bill of exceptions filed in the case.

THAT REPORT.

Commissioner Carroll D. Wright Defends It.

The Conclusions Reached Were Based Upon Good, Solid Evidence.

The Conditions and Systems Looked Into Impartially by the United States Strike Commission—Commissioners Did Not Start Out to Vindicate Anyone.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—It is impregnable and the conclusions reached by the strike commissioners were based upon good solid evidence. This utterance referred to the recent report of the United States strike commission, and was made by Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright. The statement was made at a luncheon at which he spoke of the findings of the commission. The article in question attacked certain paragraphs in the report and said that they were false and alleged that the report as a whole was full of errors and misleading statements.

"As an individual member, and not speaking for the commission as a whole," said Mr. Wright, "I can only put the report against the article in the Railway Age. We have not received a copy of the article in question. The article in question attacked certain paragraphs in the report and said that they were false and alleged that the report as a whole was full of errors and misleading statements."

Mr. Wright also said that those who were engaged by the railroads to defend their position, would, in their efforts to check its influence, use the weapons of abuse. They can not, he said, point out the alleged "enormous errors" in the article.

"The report of the commission is based on facts and will stand."

One of the so-called errors or inaccuracies made by the commissioners, according to Mr. Wright, was the statement that a large number of railroad employees were sworn in as deputy United States marshals to protect railroad property, and that their salaries as government law officers were paid by the railroad companies and not by the United States.

"This statement," added Mr. Wright, "was testified to before the strike commission by President St. John, of the Railway Managers' organization, and others. As far as the question is concerned, I do not hesitate to say that the employment of those railroad men as deputy United States marshals was wrong and set a very bad precedent indeed."

Commissioner Wright was in Chicago this morning, and the statement that the strike commission appeared in the newspapers under glaring headlines, some of which stated that the report was a vindication of the policy of President Eugene V. Debs, of the A. U. R. Referring to this, he said: "The commissioners did not set out to deal with or investigate Mr. Debs, Mr. Pullman or Mr. St. John. It was not dealing with individuals but systems. There was no purpose to vindicate or condemn any system, and conditions and systems impartially and fairly and without regard to the government or lumber dealers' association."

New York, Nov. 22.—There has recently been organized in this city an association which it is expected will have a wide influence throughout the country. It is called the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association. The organization is the outgrowth of a voluntary association which has been in existence for many years.

There was no purpose to vindicate or condemn any system, and conditions and systems impartially and fairly and without regard to the government or lumber dealers' association.

The amount involved, so far as known, is $15,715, and John R. Tait, who was the paying teller, is the official who handled the money.

The officials of the bank decide that not a cent of the money went to his own use.

The proof of this is that he could have taken $100,000 as well as a few thousand, had he so inclined, but he did not do so, and the amount is left to personal friends, taking a collateral, and only in a few instances receiving as much as an I. O. U. for the money handed out; the rest, it is said, is due to errors made by Tait in paying out.

It is intimated by the president and the cashier that the excessive worry caused by these losses reduced Tait to such a condition that he was hardly responsible for his actions and made many mistakes.

RETALIATION.

It Can Not Be Far Off if Germany Continues Her Unfair Treatment of Ambitious Importers.

It is most difficult to show that the German government is pursuing a repressive policy towards imports from the United States, and that in the end may call for retaliation. The latest evidence is contained in a report of the state department from United States Commissioner Robert E. Wright, at Hamburg. He says that a movement is being set on foot by the imperial government looking to the complete exclusion of dried and evaporated fruits and vegetables from Germany, which are found to contain more than a specific amount of zinc, supposed to have been taken up from the zinc frames in which the fruit is dried. As a result, the trade would suffer.

The commissioners that fruit-driers, who have been using wood frames, as it is all important that articles sent from the United States to Germany should be prepared in every direction, so as to afford no grounds for complaint. The commissioners also suggested that German officials or competing dealers, such as must be justly and successfully used to injure or destroy our trade. At the same time the consul does not admit, without further examination, the fact that our restrictions impose upon him well advertised services in our food products that are being claimed in Germany. He feels convinced that our representations upon the present representation of the American government to the German government will protect the healthful and unadulterated wares of our exporters from unfair and unreasonable interference, when offered for sale in the markets of Germany, and that it will use every means in its power in securing it.

Enclosures sent with the report from our circular agencies show that the attacks made on the German papers on American products have extended to our citizens in Germany, and that the statements are largely worthless.

The same consul transmits a complaint from an importing merchant in Hamburg against the American government. The American arms shall be submitted to the government and payment made before release. He says that the additional cost of the process makes it impossible to sell American arms in competition with German arms. Between America and Great Britain, he says, have been made by securing German recognition of the sufficiency of tests made at their own gun-shops under government supervision, he suggests that American gunmakers combine to secure the same privilege.

After getting the Chemical National Bank note for $100,000.

Consensus of Opinion of the Woolen Goods Dealers

In London Indicate a Slow But Noticeable Increase in Exports.

It is Too Early to Feel the Effect of the Recent American Tariff Legislation—Business is Expected to Go on as Usual.

After the First of January.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A consensus of opinion of the woolen goods dealers in London indicates a slow but noticeable and encouraging increase in exports of high class goods to the United States since the passage of the American tariff bill. Upon this Mr. Taylor, of Messrs. A. Gagniere & Co., of London, Paris, said Wednesday in an interview:

"It is a little too early to feel the effect of the recent tariff legislation in the United States. The orders received for woolen goods since the tariff bill was passed indicate a slow but steady increase in trade. I think it will be a long time, however, before trade gets back to what it was before the passage of the McKinley bill. I am speaking now only on the highest class of woolen goods, of which in 1895 $1 billion will begin to feel very encouraging results."

Northfield Harris, United States consul to Leeds, when asked his opinion as to the effect of the tariff bill:

"The effect has been increased since the passage of the bill, but no doubt, the increase will be much greater after January 1, 1895, when the lower duty on worsted and woolens will go into effect."

James S. Anderson, of the metal firm of A. G. Kildstone & Co., of Glasgow, said in regard to the effect of the new tariff on the metal trade of the United States:

"Our trade lies more in Canada. It is too early to form a just estimate of the effect of the new bill, but there we have already seen—the lower values brought by a reduction of duties in the United States are telling upon the trade of Great Britain."

Charles Meekin, United States consul at Bradford, the western center of England, which in the last thirty years has exported to the United States at manufacturers' prices $400,000,000 worth of woolen materials under several tariff bills, says:

"Bradford manufacturers and exporters regard the new tariff bill as now in its experimental stages, especially with regard to the manufacture of wool. They say that the Americans are experimenting with the New Zealand and wool markets of the world being open to them for the first time and the result is yet to be seen."

"Dozens of American wool manufacturers and wool men have been in Bradford pursuing investigations during the past few weeks. They have seemingly been on terms of great familiarity and friendliness with their alleged buyers."

Harris' opinion of the effect of the new tariff is that "to date it has had little visible effect upon the exports, save in raw wool and slightly advanced materials. Some good speculative orders have come in with the manufacturers here to be delivered in the summer trade of 1895."

Mr. Alfred B. Locke, deputy United States consul at Glasgow, said: "Trade at present has not reached the same condition as in the beginning of 1890 to the beginning of 1895, but it is improved from what it was during the time the new tariff bill was pending."

Hydrophobia Among Horses.

PANAMA CITY, Nov. 22.—Disease of a hydrophobic type has appeared among and is proving destructive to horses in the interior of the country. Friday, J. H. Moss, of New England, said that the animals were all day and the animals were apparently in perfect health. During the night a bloodied mare broke her halter and attacked and bit viciously her stable companions, tore open the barn door and ran wildly through the fields, ingesting whatever she met. She suddenly became helpless and died in great agony. The same symptoms were exhibited by animals lost by other farmers.

Standard Oil Men Indicted.

WACO, Tex., Nov. 22.—The grand jury of this county Wednesday returned indictments against several officials of the Standard Oil Co., some of whom are charged with violating the anti-trust law of Texas. Efforts will be made at once to arrest these officials and bring them to Texas for trial. The court refused to permit the names of the indicted officials to be made public.

A Postal Burglar Held.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 22.—Charles Eshart alias George Wells, the post office burglar who arrived here from Philadelphia in charge of W. J. McManus, was Wednesday held over to the grand jury on a $1,000 bond. He had six or seven stamps on his person, which were identified by Postmaster Schindler, of New Albany, by a peculiar seal received in opening the package.

Horseflesh Confessed.

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 22.—Harley Borden, alias Borden, Mo., was arrested here Tuesday on suspicion, having in his possession a horse and buggy, which he wanted to sell for $20. Wednesday he confessed that he obtained the rig at Plain City, O., from C. L. Sherman, a lawyer, who would be taken back to Plain City Thursday to answer to the charge against him.

Died of Rabies.

GOSHEN, Ind., Nov. 22.—Peter Heath, aged 30, died of rabies Tuesday night in terrible agony. The disease resulted from a bite left by a mad dog. He was bit when he was but twelve years of age.

PRISON REFORM.

What Warren French of the Indians Said About Prison Reform in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 22.—Warren French, of the Michigan City pententiary, in his report to Gov. Matthews sets out his views on some changes that he believes to be much needed in the system of state institutions of the state. His recommendations that instead of being sentenced for life, prisoners be sentenced for fifty years, thus giving the prisoner a chance to regain his freedom and furnish for his own good.

He also recommends that the prisons be conducted on the plan of a manual training school and each prisoner taught some trade or craft, and that the state be required to employ experts for them if possible, after their release. He also recommends that such of the prisoners as are not able to read and write when they enter the prison be taught this within the prison.

The average attendance is 245 and total enrollment 314. The per capita cost of maintaining pupils was $306.13, this amount including salaries. The appropriations for the year were $61,765.

Cotton Growers' Trust May Be Formed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—A meeting of cotton growers was convened yesterday at the Hotel Western to consider forming a plan recently suggested by J. L. Roddy, a cotton broker of New York, for controlling the prices of cotton.

The plan announced by Mr. Roddy was recommended. Mr. Roddy's suggestion was that each cotton grower, with of the United States telling upon the trade of Great Britain.
